How to insert Flash into PowerPoint 2007

2. On the "Developer" tab > go to "Controls" group > Click the icon of hammer and nail for "More Controls" > go to the "More Controls" window

3. On the "More Controls" window > select "Shockwave Flash Object" in the list > click "OK" at the bottom > use your pointer to drag on the slide to draw and resize the control

4. Right click the control you draw > click "Properties" in the right-click menu > go to the "Properties" window

5. On the alphabetic tab > click the "Movie" property > type the full drive path in the value column (the blank cell next to Movie), including the file name (e.g. C\:a.swf) or URL (e.g. http://www.a.com/b.swf) HINT... it is a good idea to save the flash file in the same area as the PowerPoint file. If you do that then you only need to enter the name of the flash file, (e.g. a.swf)
